Hi Cheryl,

Thanks for taking the time to complete a submission for the Local Easter Sunday Trading policy.

I note that you haven't sent the second page to the document; the questions were "Do you think Easter Sunday trading should apply to the whole district or part?" and "Are you a resident or ratepayer of the South Wairarapa district? - yes/no

I thought I would check that this was intentional, before forwarding on to the Committee Secretary - in case you wanted to re-send it through.

Kind regards,

Good for the "Visitor" trade/economy. However, staff being rostered to work on this day should not be forced into working, as it is also a Religious day for some, & seen also as a family day.

We do not support the trend towards every day of the year being a business day. We believe that it is a healthy thing to mark a few special days when shops are not open for business. One of these days is Easter Sunday.

Comments in support of choice

Let us have some time in NZ Wairarapa that commercialism does not dominate. Let people be families and do family things together on Easter Sunday. There are already enough services that require people to work. Keep one day free at least.

Over the Easter period we see a huge influx of visitors to Greytown. The majority of customers we have spoken to express a strong desire for all the shops and galleries to be open on Easter Sunday. (Confusion reigns as to who can legally trade on Easter Sunday).
 Our experience is based on a twenty year period of living and trading in Greytown.

Comments in support of location

We support 'whole of district'. It will bring vibrancy to the region over the Easter holiday period. The South Wairarapa is 'on the map' as a holiday destination. Being open for business is a must.

8 February 2017

By email enquiries@swdc.govt.nz

Foodstuffs North Island Limited submission on South Wairarapa District Council Statement of Proposal on Easter Sunday Trading under the Shop Trading Hours Act 1990

Foodstuffs North Island Limited (Foodstuffs) is the franchisor of the Foodstuffs Co-operatives' brands in the North Island. Our franchised stores in your Region, Jellicoe Street Four Square and Martinborough Four Square, are significant employers in your District and currently employ approximately 50 people. We may of course open more stores in your Region in future.

Foodstuffs appreciate the opportunity to make a submission, and supports Council's proposal to allow shops in the whole of the district to be open on Easter Sunday.

For its part, the majority of Foodstuffs members would welcome the opportunity to open their stores on Easter Sunday. The current restriction is inconvenient for the many family holiday-makers that travel away from home to the South Wairarapa region for holidays and require provisions for their stay. It is also inconvenient for the many international tourists that visit at Easter time, and all our other customers who would simply like more days to buy groceries over the long-weekend.

We note that, if the Council were to introduce a policy allowing Easter Sunday trading, individual retailers within the district would be free to choose whether or not to open, retail employees would be free to choose whether or not to work (with statutory protections if they elect not to), and members of the public could choose, individually, whether they wanted to shop or not. In this sense permitting Easter Sunday trading would enable individuals to exercise personal choices.

We do not wish to make oral submissions.

Yours sincerely

Angela Dimery

Through membership servicing of approximately 3,000 members throughout New Zealand, Hospitality New Zealand is able to gauge the views and experiences of a wide variety of New Zealand hospitality businesses including restaurants, café, bars, hotels, motels, taverns, off-licenses, casinos and a wide array of short and long term accommodation providers. Membership of Hospitality New Zealand is voluntary, is primarily funded by member subscriptions and comprises predominantly small businesses. There is also a perception that Hospitality New Zealand, through its advocacy, speaks for and represents the interests of the hospitality industry as a whole.

Because the majority of hospitality businesses are excluded from the shop trading hours restrictions due to the provision of food, any changes or status quo to South Wairarapa District Councils' decision on shop trading hours will not affect the majority of our memberships ability to trade. The major impact of Easter trading on most hospitality businesses is the restriction on the ability to serve alcohol when members of the public are not on site for the purpose of dining, which is not part of this proposed policy.

However, Hospitality New Zealand Wellington Branch supports the proposed Shop trading hour's policy specifically option 3 in principle for the following reasons:

- The ability for retail businesses to trade over Easter creates an 'open for business' attitude for the region which assist in marketing the area to Easter holiday makers and tourists as a whole. This is important in the overall perception of the region which if improved will hopefully have a flow on effect for our Accommodation and Hospitality members.

- Hospitality businesses in commercial areas have a mutual relationship through a shared customer base with the retail businesses who are effected by the shop trading hour restrictions over Easter. The ability for retail customers to choose to shop over this will potentially increase foot traffic and have the flow on effect of increasing patronage in hospitality businesses.

In Conclusion:

Hospitality and Retail are important industries for the international and domestic tourist market. The ability for both of these sectors to trade over a known holiday weekend will increase the regions appeal to holidaymakers and locals alike. Hospitality business can directly benefit from increased foot traffic and visitors to an area while retail is open. The Act is specific in that it does have any mandatory requirement for businesses to open, nor can a business force an employee to work. By allowing for the removal shop trading hour restrictions over the Easter period, people will have the freedom of choice do shop, dine or otherwise during this period.

It is for these reasons that Hospitality NZ supports the removal of restrictions on trading hours in South Wairarapa.

We do not wish to be heard on our submission

We think that Easter Sunday should be a day off for everyone to enjoy no matter what your beliefs are, so we do not support Easter Sunday Trading.

The Looking South publication states that 'the Draft Policy is to allow trading on Easter Sunday where business owners wish to open, and where they can staff their businesses with employees who are happy to work on that day.' However, we feel that some staff may feel obliged to work even if they don't really want to work on the holiday, especially where they feel a sense of loyalty to their employer, so we don't think this is fair for those employees who might find themselves in this situation.

Bottom Line Up Front - I support this draft policy as it is sensible, and simply the right thing to do. It allows South Wairarapa retailers the discretion to open for trading on Easter Sunday, or not. It also reinforces the protection of employees who might decline to work either on religious or other grounds.

New Zealand is an increasingly secular society with the 2013 census results indicating an overall downward trend in Christian belief and/or practice. While New Zealanders enjoy public holidays - Christian and otherwise - it must be said that the majority of these people are unlikely themselves to be practising Christians. Indeed it could be said that Christian holidays are a legacy of days long gone, and are less meaningful to most New Zealanders nowadays. Observance of Christian holidays over holidays of other religions also does not truly reflect New Zealand's multi-cultural reality in the 21st Century. But I digress.

The NZ Bill of Rights Act gives New Zealanders "the right to freedom from discrimination on the grounds of sex, marital status, religious belief, ethical belief, colour, race, ethnic or national origins, political opinion, age, disability, sexual orientation, employment status and family status". As a non-religious person, I contend that - until this recent law change - my, and other New Zealanders', rights to shop on Easter Sunday (just like any other Sunday) were being unduly restricted by an Act of Parliament which has as its basis, the historic Christian beliefs of our founding fathers. In essence my religious non-belief (every bit as relevant as someone else's religious belief) was being discriminated against.

While this law change and the resulting SWDC draft policy is a great step forward it does not go far enough, however. Good Friday should also be subject to the same consideration that will see trading on Easter Sunday freed up - but this is another battle.

I commend SWDC for a logical Easter Sunday Trading Policy and look forward to its early introduction.

Comments in support of choice:

trading will allow for local businesses to operate at a time when trading/ consumer numbers may be high.

Business must not force employees to work on these days but allow employees to work IF they are happy to do so.

Comments in support of choice: Martinborough has become a tourist town - many in the town depend on visitors for their livelihoods. The tourist industry has added to the strength of other industries - eg wine - and considerably enhanced the attractiveness of the town. Shops should be open on all key holidays so the town can serve it's visitors.

Comments in support of choice: Good for the region to be open and accessible. Currently there is confusion over who can open and it seems unfair that some can't, especially when retailers are competing with online shopping and our region is a tourist destination. We need to be open to offer services to out of towners. Easter trading has little to do with new generations and it doesn't account for others who support different religions. It should be a business decision whether to operate your business or not.

Comments in support of choice: Business is brisk at Easter with lots of visitors to our beautiful area. It would be hospitable of us to offer them eating and shopping and entertainment choices. We do not wish to stop others from enjoying their freedom to attend church services, so it is only fair to show people who wish to trade the same respect.

Comments in support of choice: I feel people should have the freedom of choice. if a business would like to open and their employees are willing to work then they should be able to. If people feel the businesses shouldn't be open then they don't to visit those places. We should all be able to choose what we do with our days off.

Comments in support of choice: I resent not being able to shop on Easter Sunday because of someone else's religious values. We live in a pluralist society where tolerance of various beliefs and values is paramount. In the last census 41% of NZers were categorised as non-religious. If religious people do not want to shop on Easter Sunday then that is their right - but I do not see why their values should stop me from shopping on this day.

Comments in support of choice: Subjecting shop owners to a trading ban based on religion is a violation of their human rights and the principle of separation of church and state. Nobody should be expected to operate their business in New Zealand based on the religious beliefs of a minority of the population (based on the latest census results)

Comments in support of choice:

Wairarapa is a thriving tourism region and we have many domestic visitors that are here for R&R in a wine village. Alongside them are the international tourists who are bemused that we shut down at such a busy time.

Many of us in hospitality are working anyway so what is the point in declaring a holiday for only part of the business community. In our case our accommodation product complements the retail and hospitality product.

Many domestic guests delay their arrival to Martinborough as there is little open on Friday. They would begin arriving Thursday if businesses were open Friday.

Winter is coming. We have plenty of quieter days in winter. We need to make money when the visitor wants to visit and spend.

Comments in support of choice

Any restrictions on the general population due to any one religious belief are no longer appropriate in NZ. What would have seemed appropriate in the 19 or 20 C are no longer. We have become multi-racial and multi-religious or non-religious. People must be free to follow their own desires in these matters.

Having been a retailer myself & being forced to close on a long weekend restricts trade. Being a small town retailers rely on holidays & long weekends. They need to make hay while the sun shines.
It is also extremely unfair for some areas in NZ to be able to trade & others not. It is wrong & denies retailers an opportunity to take advantage while lots of people ~~are~~ are around.

my sense is that we leave Easter Sunday as status quo. we can buy on Saturday + Monday the same things we would have got on that Sunday if open, what does one day difference really make? Spend time with families, relax and appreciate the day for what it stands for. Lets be the point of difference as a nation and not have to be the fast paced shopping environment as in other countries. If we set a precedence in making shopping available on this recognised day - what will eventually become of the other public holiday we hold so dearly?!

Submissions on the Statement of Proposal - Proposed Easter Sunday Shop Trading Policy
South Wairarapa District Council
BY EMAIL: enquiries@swdc.govt.nz

Dear Sir / Madam

SUBMISSION ON PROPOSED EASTER SUNDAY TRADING POLICY

Introduction

1. Retail NZ is a trade association representing the interests of the retail sector. We have around 4,200 members nationwide (including many in the South Wairarapa district), and our members account for around two-thirds of total spending in New Zealand.

Submission

2. We would like to express our support for the Option 3 (at 4.3) of the South Wairarapa District Council's proposed Easter Sunday Trading Policy, which would allow (but not require) retail businesses within the district to open on Easter Sunday.
3. Further, adoption of policy Option 3 would provide a level playing field for retailers to choose whether they wish to open or not, and would not restrict this choice to retailers only in particular parts of the South Wairarapa district (which would occur should Option 2 be adopted).

Comment

4. Permitting retailers to open their stores is a proactive policy that will support local businesses by allowing them to trade, if it makes sense for the individual businesses concerned. As noted in the Statement of Proposal, there is a significant number of visitors in the South Wairarapa district, and it is right that businesses should be able to choose whether or not trade.
5. Cafes and restaurants are already technically allowed to open on Easter Sunday, and if shops were permitted to trade as well, then it would add to making towns around the district a more attractive destination for customers seeking both hospitality and retail services.
6. Retail NZ notes that the rights of shop employees to refuse to work on Easter Sunday are explicitly protected by the Shop Trading Hours Act 1990 (as amended). We support these protections - and clear rules are spelt out in the legislation around the various notifications that need to be provided by employers and employees.

7. We understand that the Easter period is a special time for many New Zealanders, and recognise that people have a right to practice any form of religious and / or family commitments. The importance of Easter will be protected under the draft policy, because the primary legislation guarantees the rights of employees not to work.
8. We also note that individual businesses will be free to make their own decisions about whether or not to open under the Shop Trading Hours Act 1990 (as amended). Some will choose not to do so, but we do not see any reason to deny them that choice.

Conclusion

9. We would be happy to provide any additional information if required. We would be grateful if you could please let us know the outcomes of this process in due course so we can keep our members informed.

Yours faithfully

Businesses should be able to trade whenever they like. However with public holidays & "religious" public holidays (Easter, Christmas) it should be entirely ~~down to~~ <sup>for employees</sup> the employees choice whether they work or not, & of course they must be ~~properly~~ <sup>properly</sup> paid according to contractual & legal requirements. As Easter is a Christian holiday & we live in a "multicultural" society we must respect those who do not ~~for~~ <sup>have</sup> the same beliefs as the founders

Perhaps representatives from each town in Wairarapa could meet to discuss the opening of shops etc + the availability of staff willing to work. Possibly opening mid morning. Also rates of pay. Visitors like browsing the area which leads to purchases.

Provided it is as this "Looking South" suggests
 "Where business owners wish to open, and where they can staff their businesses with employees who are "happy" to work on that day"
 It should not be compulsory and staff would be paid accordingly for a public holiday
